Just waiting for last few guests to go;
strike continues

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Owners of 15 hotels on the Las Vegas Strip — hit by a strike of culinary workers, bartenders, musicians and stagehands — worked to accommodate dwindling numbers of guests Friday as efforts continued to end the walkout.

Spokesmen for most of the 15 clubs said they were advising their guests they could provide only skeletal services and said they would likely lock the doors when the last of them check out. The MGM Grand Hotel said it expected it would take one to four days for all of the guests to leave.

Most hotels offered buffet meals to guests or tried to keep at least one restaurant open. Management and nonunion employees were pressed into service to help in the kitchens and on general upkeep.

Al Bramlet, secretary-treasurer of the culinary union and the spokesman for the bartenders, met with representatives of the Nevada Resort Association in negotiations prior to the start of the strike Thursday night. The talks continued into Friday morning.

The resort association, which represents for the 15 struck clubs, had offered the union a $1 an hour raise over three years but the union wanted $1.35 an hour over three years. That's what they were able to get under a tentative agreement with six clubs not affiliated with the association, the Hacienda, Stardust, Marina, Fremont, Riviera, and Aladdin. Those clubs were not struck.

Under the expired contract, bartenders made $4.50 an hour and waiters and waitresses $2.40 an hour.

Hit by the strike were Caesars Palace, MGM Grand, Las Vegas Hilton, Flamingo Hilton, Tropicana Landmark, Dunes, Sahara, Sands, Desert Inn, Castaways, Frontier, Silver Slipper, Thunderbird and Circus Circus.

Lebanon leader out?

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The armed forces command announced early today it considered Suleiman Franjeh no longer president of Lebanon, but the defiant Christian leader refused to relinquish his office.

The ninth communique issued by the National Corrective Movement — headed by Brig. Aziz Ahdab, the Moslem leader of Thursday's military coup — called on the Lebanese parliament to elect a new president.

"President Suleiman Franjeh has been considered as resigned for not responding to our appeals," the communique said.

The military leaders demanded Friday that Franjeh give up his office "in response to popular feelings" shown by widespread public support for the coup.

Franjeh, barricaded in his hilltop mansion behind loyal troops, condemned the coup and fought a "radio war" with Ahdab.

Three more corporations admit payoffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three more multinational corporations disclosed overseas payoffs Friday, including International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., which paid out $3.8 million to foreign customers or government officials over the past five years.

General Tire and Rubber Co. said it kept a secret fund of $1 million, much of it paid out to consultants in Arab nations and behind the Iron Curtain.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. reported that a search of its records turned up questionable payments of less than $300,000 over the past five years, $70,000 of that in 1975.

All three firms said internal investigations were conducted as a result of disclosures of foreign bribes by other firms and investigations by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

ITT said a special report prepared for its stockholders shows that in the 80 countries where the firm did $50 billion business from 1971 to 1975, no laws were broken.

"In many areas of the world it is not unusual and often accepted as normal practice to give presents or make payments of modest value to government functionaries in order to expedite administrative action or secure procedural assistance," the report said.

The firm provided no details and an ITT spokesman declined to elaborate beyond a two-page statement, which also said some of the payments were made in the United States.

Ex-lobbyist is indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Claude C. Wild Jr., former chief lobbyist for the Gulf Oil Corp. in Washington, was indicted by a federal grand jury Friday on two felony counts of making illegal campaign contributions.

Wild, who two years ago pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of making an illegal campaign contribution to Richard Nixon's 1972 presidential campaign, was indicted for making illegal contributions to the 1972 and 1974 primary-election campaigns of Sens. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, and Sam Nunn, D-Ga.

FAA orders safety precautions

Airlines told to screen all baggage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration is ordering the nation's domestic airlines to screen checked baggage before it is put into the holds of planes, Administrator John L. McLucas said Friday.

The FAA said that effective April 15, all baggage would be subject to search, although on a typical flight only one or two bags would actually be opened.

McLucas said the key element in the screening will be a set of guidelines to identify baggage that might contain explosives. He declined to say how certain pieces of luggage might be considered suspicious or to disclose other

As a 'favorite son' candidate

Brown announces he'll run for President in primary

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. moved into the presidential sweepstakes Friday, saying he will be a favorite son in the California primary June 8.

Brown, a Democrat, said he did not plan to run in any other state, but his announcement means he will be on at least one other ballot. Oregon lists all probable candidates in its May 25 primary.

Opinion polls have showed the former Jesuit seminarian's austere policies and spartan style have made him the most popular governor in recent California history.

He said he wanted his views aired at the convention in New York in July.

"I'm going to go to the convention, assuming I have some delegates," Brown said. He would not predict how many of the state's 280 delegates he would win.

The 37-year-old bachelor governor ended months of speculation and almost daily queries from reporters by saying in an interview here:

"I will name a steering committee Monday. I will take whatever steps are necessary to put my name on the ballot ... Yes, I'm a candidate ... not a favorite son, a native son."

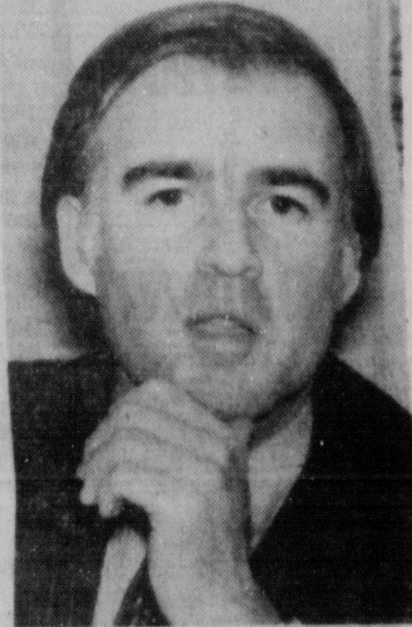

"I'm just running in California," he said. "That's enough."

Brown, elected governor in 1974, said he made his decision early Friday and intended to announce it Friday night at a political dinner in San Rafael.

He apparently accidentally let it slip into an informal talk with reporters of The Associated Press and three other news organizations.

Three cabinet-level aides who sat in on the informal interview as Brown drank fruit juice and discussed his political philosophy said they first learned of his decision during the conversation.

Brown said he will be "actively in-

Carter in L.A. says 'Reagan is through'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter came to California Friday seeking campaign contributions and "an intimacy with the American people" which he hopes will carry him to the White House.

He found both.

A campaign spokesman said his 14-hour visit will net the former Georgia governor some $47,500 at fund-raising dinners and receptions.

And Carter found plenty of intimacy at UCLA, where an overflow crowd of students hammered on the doors of an auditorium, yelling: "We want in, we want in."

At a press conference, Carter said his main Democratic opponent now appears to be Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, and predicted President Ford will be his Republican opponent in the November general election, ruling out former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"Reagan is through," he said. "He has been through three or four primaries and hasn't won yet. But Ford will be a very formidable opponent."

Carter added that should he fail in the presidential race, he wouldn't be interested in a vice presidential slot.

11 bodies stay in mine; another blast feared

OVEN FORK, Ky. (AP) — Eleven men on an emergency work detail in a coal mine where 15 persons died earlier this week were found dead Friday after a new explosion. But rescue teams were unable to bring out the latest victims because they feared another shaft explosion.

"We are leaving the bodies and pulling the rescue teams out immediately because it could blow (again) any minute," said H.N. Kirkpatrick, commissioner of the Kentucky Bureau of Mines and Minerals.

Fifteen miners were killed by a blast in the mine on Tuesday.

Robert Barrett, the federal government's mine safety chief, said Friday after meeting with mine officials and miners' representatives that the 11 victims of the latest explosion will not be brought out for at least a week, perhaps longer.

"Everyone is just too apprehensive right now," he said. "Since we've ascertained that the men aren't alive, we're not going to take any more risks."

The 11 victims were among 13 men who entered the Scotia Coal Co.'s No. 1 Black Mountain Mine to reinforce the roof, weakened by Tuesday's explosion, so that federal inspectors could begin an investigation.

The two emergency workers who got out alive were identified as Ernest Collins, of Whitesburg, and Ricky Parker, of Cumberland.

Collins' wife, Genoveva, said her husband told her he and Parker had left the other men and had gone to get something when the explosion occurred. She said her husband told her there was no warning, "just a big boom."

SEARCHING FOR SURVIVORS

Tornadoes kill 5 in Indiana; barely miss Ford in Illinois

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes and storms cut across northern Illinois and northwest Indiana Friday, leaving six persons dead, at least 90 injured and causing property damage estimated in the millions of dollars.

Five persons died in Indiana and one in Chicago as a result of the tornadoes. One tornado narrowly missed President Ford's motorcade in Chicago.

The motorcade carrying the President, who is in Chicago campaigning for the Illinois primary next Tuesday, was delayed to permit fire and emergency vehicles to move to a damaged building.

The twister touched down on the roof of a motel near O'Hare International Airport eight minutes before the motorcade passed by en route to where Ford was spending the night, three blocks away.

Gov. Daniel Walker asked Ford to declare Cook, DuPage, Kendall and Kankakee counties a major disaster area.

In Indiana, where five died, state police and rescue workers were clearing debris as the injured were taken to nearby hospitals. There was no official count of the injured but at least 20 injuries were reported shortly after the twisters struck.

The tornadoes were first reported at about 3 p.m. EST in Demotte, a community of 2,200 in northwest Indiana.

Three persons were killed in the Indiana tornadoes, and two others suffered fatal heart attacks when their homes were hit by twisters.

The President and his party arrived safely at a motel on the Northwest side of the city for a speaking engagement shortly after sudden, violent storms unleashed several twisters which injured 57 persons in Chicago's western and northwestern suburbs.

The roof of a restaurant blew off and an industrial building was damaged less than a block from where the President's motorcade passed eight minutes after the tornado struck.

A clock in a damaged building nearby stopped at 1:25 p.m., police said. An aide said the President arrived at the motel at 1:33 p.m.

The President's party left a downtown hotel in torrential rain for his suburban appearance.

Attendants at Resurrection Hospital said they had received 10 persons who were injured — none seriously — near the motorcade route.

Twisters or high winds peeled off roofs, uprooted trees, overturned autos and knocked down utility lines in a 20-mile area in metropolitan Chicago.

Tornadoes were also sighted in Michigan on Friday in southwest Hillsdale County near Camden, and at Hudson in Lenawee County as thunderstorms and high winds raked the southern part of the state.

LaGuardia Airport last Dec. 29 killed 11 persons and wounded some 75 others.

In another aviation development Friday, the Civil Aeronautics Board ordered a reduction within 90 days in excess baggage charges assessed on international flights to and from the United States, saying such charges are too high.

The CAB also gave the international airlines a year in which to revise the free baggage allowance on those flights. In general, passengers in first class are permitted 66 pounds without penalty, while tourist or economy-class passengers are limited to 44 pounds.

Judge raps job policies

Mexican-Americans to be given preference

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge ruled Friday that the Orange County city of Santa Ana must give preference to Mexican-Americans for jobs as police officers and fire fighters.

Court officials said the finding could have an impact on the hiring practices of more than 200 police and fire departments in California and Nevada.

Ruling on a class action suit filed by the League of United Latin American Citizens, U.S. Dist. Judge Warren J. Ferguson said there was "convincing evidence that the recruitment policies and some of Santa Ana's hiring policies" exclude Mexican-Americans from police and fire department positions.

The League filed its suit on behalf of Lawrence Felix, a Mexican-American who was rejected for a police job three times between 1969 and 1973. The suit said recruitment practices, including a mental maturity test, a fire department aptitude test and a fixed height requirement, discriminated against Mexican-American applicants.

Ferguson found that the height requirement, which the city has abandoned on its own, is discriminatory. He said a fire department requirement for a high school diploma also was discriminatory but said the city could continue to use it because it will not have an adverse effect on applicants. A similar requirement by the police force is nondiscriminatory and permissible, he said.

The city must hire more Mexican-Americans but Ferguson did not set a goal. He said a quota system to make their representation on the forces equal their numbers in the population would not be necessary immediately.

Santa Ana's population is 146,000 and Mexican-Americans account for 25.8 per cent of that, the judge noted.

12 JC students in area win honors from bank

Twelve students from three valley area junior colleges were quarter final winners in Bank of America's annual $88,000 California Community College Awards program.

Local winners by category are:

Business, Suzanne Hazard, Covina, Mt. San Antonio College; John Weber, Fontana, Chaffey College; and Mayra Phillips, Monrovia, Citrus College.

Science-engineering — Ellen DeCeglie, Diamond Bar, MSAC; Ronald Edmon, Ontario, Chaffey, and John Lamoureux, Glendora, Citrus College.

Social science — humanities — Stephen Gordon, Upland, Chaffey; Mark Richichi, Diamond Bar, MSAC; and Patricia Groszitz, Glendora, Citrus.

Technical-vocational — Kathleen Burnett, Upland, Chaffey; Deborah Campbell, West Covina, MSAC; and Thomas Litschge, Covina, Citrus College.

These college sophomores are assured at least $150 in the competition and now are competing for as much as $2,000 should they progress to the finals set for April 28 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles.

The 46 participating Southern California community colleges each have selected four students, one each in fields of business, technical-vocational, social science-humanities, and science and engineering.

These students now advance to one of five semi-final area competitions in Southern California on March 30. At the area events, two students in each of the four fields will be selected for the finals. Finalists will receive at least $250.

At the area events, the students will discuss an unannounced subject related to their field of study before a panel of business and civic leaders presided over by a prominent educator. Scholastic records, citizenship, leadership and service also will be evaluated.

Semi-final winners then advance to the Southern California finals April 28. Selection process will be the same as area events, with judging in each field being held separately.

All finalists receive at least $250 and have an opportunity to win $2,000 first place awards. Second place awards are $1,000, with $500 for third place winners.

A total of 400 California community college students will receive cash awards this year, with a concurrent competition being held in North California.

Inquest likely in shooting

A coroner's inquest is likely in the death Thursday night of an Ontario man killed while struggling with an Alhambra policeman after a robbery there, authorities said.

The man, Joseph Martin, 49, 1315 Euclid Ave., was shot in the chest and was pronounced dead on arrival at San Gabriel Community Hospital.

Alhambra Police Lt. Richard Fish gave this account of the incident:

Officer George LaPold, 47, answered a robbery-in-progress call at a dress shop at 1489 W. Valley Blvd. and saw Martin run out as he arrived. He pursued the man into the backyard of a nearby house and the two grappled there. During the struggle Martin attempted to get LaPold's revolver and it fired, striking Martin in the chest.

Officers found the $100 loot taken from the dress shop on Martin's body and they found the toy pistol in a driveway nearby which he had used during the holdup, Fish said.

Fish added that it is routine for an inquest to be asked in such a shooting.

Practicing for their enormous project of painting curb numbers in front of 7,600 Claremont homes are, from left, Dexter Atkinson, president of the Claremont Police Officers Association; Mrs. John McSweeney, project chairman; and Marie Salyer, president of the Claremont Junior Woman's Club. Numbers will be painted free.

Reflectorized numbers to speed emergency calls

The Claremont Junior Woman's Club and the Claremont Police Officers Association will launch a citywide safety program, Project House Identification, Thursday to help emergency personnel locate residences faster.

Members of the two organizations will paint all Claremont home addresses on street curbs using a special reflective paint easily seen day or night. They hope to finish numbering 7,600 houses in about four months.

When responding to a call, city emergency crews presently are hampered by overgrown shrubbery obscuring home address numbers, or worn-out, indefinite home numbers painted on street curbs.

Such circumstances can impair efficiency and create unnecessary delays, says the sponsors.

Project House Identification is being done in cooperation with the Los Angeles County Fire Department, city of Claremont and the Claremont Police Department.

In endorsing the program, Richard Houts, chief forester and fire warden for the county Fire Department, said that readily identifiable house and business addresses are most essential.

"Numbers should be on the house and the curb facing,"

Houts said. "If responding units cannot find an address, they will be delayed, and a life may be lost."

Claremont Police Chief Charles Lines also endorsed Project House Identification.

Helping out during Project House Identification is Explorer Post 411, sponsored by the Claremont Police Department. The explorers will be going door-to-door to hand out crime and fire prevention information.

The Explorers also will ask residents to participate in Operation Identification, sponsored by the Claremont Rotary Club and the Police Department, a program underway for several years.

According to Lt. Red Corson, statistics prove that engraving valuables with a driver's license number aids in retrieving stolen property and also discourages burglars from entering a home.

Electric pencil engravers are available for sign-out by residents at the local police station.

Corson said that effective involvement in crime prevention not only assists the police in apprehending criminals, but property owners can limit the chance of becoming a target for crime.

New Zealanders to brief Rotary Clubs

Rotary Clubs in the Pomona Valley area will hear the impressions of members of a study team from New Zealand at their respective meetings during the next two weeks.

The New Zealand group is here for a 60-day visit made possible by a grant from Rotary International through the Rotary Foundation. The purpose of the foundation is the development of international friendship and understanding.

One of the most recent projects of the foundation is that of giving young business and professional men from one country the opportunity of visiting another country for intensive study of its economic, governmental and cultural activities.

The group, from Northern New Zealand and the South Pacific Islands, consists of Lionel Beattie, a senior police sergeant from Papakua; Neil Fitzsimmons, the St. Johns Ambulance Association officer from Auckland; Simon Dennistoun-Wood, a fulltime artist from the Bay of Islands; Donald Hobbs, associated with sales and construction from Auckland; and Abdul Rafik, sugar representative from the Fiji Islands.

All are between 27 and 34 and are outstanding in their vocations. They are accompanied by Rotarian Ian Page, a past president of the New Lynn, New Zealand Rotary Club, who is the managing officer of an Auckland engine company.

Local Rotarians will be providing home hospitality and transportation during their stay in Southern California. Thirty-nine Rotary Clubs in Southern California and seven in Nevada are involved in this project, jointly arranged by Gov. Stanley Warburton of Rotary District 530 of the U.S. and Ali Asgar of District 292 in New Zealand and the Pacific Islands.

Applications are now being considered for a like group of business and professional men, between the ages of 25 and 35, from the local area to go on a similar study project to Northern New Zealand and the South Pacific Islands in the spring of 1977. Anyone interested in applying should contact the local Rotary Club for details.

Convicted of killing jewelry salesman

Ex-Claremonter appeals death edict

The state Supreme Court will review the appeal by a former Claremont building contractor convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death in the 1974 slaying of a jewelry salesman in San Jose.

James T. Elliott, 28, was found guilty by a Santa Clara County Superior Court jury which also heard related evidence that the defendant was involved in the attempted murder of an Upland meat distributor in 1973.

Elliott is confined to state prison while awaiting the outcome of his appeal for a new trial. If the appeal fails, a date will be set for his execution in San Quentin gas chamber.

Elliott and Charles James

Thomas, 46, of Chino, were arrested during a joint investigation by San Jose and Upland police detectives in connection with the near-fatal shooting of Upland meat company owner Frank Richards in December 1973 and the slaying of Los Angeles jewelry dealer Benjamin I. Rudman, 61, in San Jose on Dec. 1, 1974.

Thomas is presently on trial on related charges in San Jose.

Upland police launched an investigation into the shooting of Richards in November 1973 after Richards recovered from three gunshot wounds. Police then learned that Richards had a business partner, Elliott, who became the primary suspect, since Richards had a $175,000 business insurance policy.

More than a year later the jewelry salesman was found shot to death in the trunk of his car parked at the San Jose Airport. Nearly $400,000 in jewelry and cash was missing from the victim.

Finally, in February of last year Elliott told San Francisco police that he was robbed of $400,000 in jewelry and $1,500 in cash in his motel room there. He claimed that two armed men forced their way into his room.

At the time, Elliott claimed he had just converted his assets into jewelry.

San Jose and Upland police became interested in Elliott when they learned that he had not only been a business partner of Richards in Upland, but a business partner with Rudman in Los Angeles.

In the trial of Elliott the prosecution successfully showed that a conspiracy existed between Thomas and Elliott.

ROBERT IRVINE, of Claremont, electronic engineer, is chairman of the Friends of Scouting campaign's Scout Family Division in Sunset District, Old Baldy Council, Boys Scouts of America. The campaign continues through this month. Funds raised in the district will support the scouting program for 4,000 boys and 1,500 volunteers in Claremont, Diamond Bar, La Verne, Pomona, San Dimas and Walnut.

$1 billion mark in tax receipts

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For the first time in history, California's monthly tax receipts topped the $1 billion mark in February, says state Controller Ken Cory.

He reported Thursday that receipts were $1,085,510,947, compared to the previous high of $974.6 million in August, 1975.

Police killing trial to open

Testimony in the murder trial of Steven Miller, 23, of Ontario is expected to begin Monday morning in West Valley Superior Court before a jury and four alternates seated Thursday.

Miller is accused of the Oct. 15 slaying of Ontario Police Officer Richard Hyche outside of an apartment complex at 916 E. Deodar St. in Ontario. He is also accused of murder in connection with the killing of Edwin Huntsman, 31, of Red Bluff during an alleged robbery attempt at the Pepper Tree Motel in Ontario on Oct. 14.

Huntsman was shot to death by Theodore Kirts after Miller, his younger brother Jerry, 20, and Huntsman allegedly attempted to rob Kirts.

Jerry Miller earlier pleaded to reduced charges of burglary and sales of narcotics in connection with the case.

Opening statements in the trial will be given by Deputy Dist. Atty. Louis Glazier and Miller's attorney, Michael Welch of Ontario, Monday morning beginning at 9:30 a.m. Presiding over the trial will be West Valley Superior Court Judge Richard Garner.

Young train victim remembered: promising athlete, respectful

"He was a quiet, easy-going gentleman; well disciplined with respect for not only his folks, but all other adults."

This is the way Rodney Morris, a sergeant at the San Dimas sheriff's substation, remembers James Joseph Campbell. Campbell, 15, a sophomore at San Dimas High School, was killed Feb. 25 when struck by a Santa Fe passenger train.

Morris' son was one of two boys with Campbell at the time of the accident. The three were returning home after studying at the San Dimas library, walking along the railroad tracks between Walnut and San Dimas avenues.

Morris knew Campbell as a well-mannered youth who had had no contacts with the law. He was an "exceptional athlete especially in track and field and football," said Morris. He held the junior high school track record for the long jump in the state and as a freshman at San Dimas High was jumping and running against varsity teams at his own and other schools. And winning.

Ralph and Penny Campbell, his parents, have two other sons and a daughter. The youngest boy is also demonstrating outstanding potential for sports and excelling in Little League baseball, said Morris.

More than 600 persons attended Campbell's funeral in late February. The mourners were mostly students from San Dimas and Bonita High schools. Campbell was well-known and loved at both schools and in athletic circles throughout the valley, Morris said.

The sheriff's deputies and San Dimas students and faculty will sponsor a benefit basketball competition Wednesday as a memorial to Campbell. The proceeds will go to the James Campbell Memorial Fund and to help his family offset the costs of funeral arrangements.

Tickets for the games starting at 7 p.m. in the high school gym are $1 per person. The first game will be between the students and sheriff's deputies from the San Dimas substation. The second will be between San Dimas High alumni and faculty.

Seven Chino students score high in Future Farmers competition

Seven Chino young persons are among more than 50 San Bernardino County high school students named winners by Security Pacific Bank in local Future Farmers of America project competition.

The Chino students, whose projects will now advance to sectional judging, are Jesse Atilano, Holly Imbach, Steve Jacobson, Sandy Maxwell, Beverly Meidinger, Marie Nagano and Bill Whaples.

Students from high schools in Yucaipa, Redlands, Colton, Bloomington, Barstow, Victor Valley, Fontana and Apple Valley are also in the competition, which will conclude with the announcement of the sectional winners on April 13. An awards banquet will be held where prizes will be awarded and each project will be highlighted.

This is the 22nd year Security Pacific Bank has sponsored the Future Farmers of America competition.

The bank ranks third nationally in agricultural loans, with more than $300 million in farm and related loans made annually.

Rescind antibus stand in L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The city school board has voted to change its stand against compulsory busing to achieve racial integration, calling instead for "people integration."

On a 6-1 vote, the board rescinded a March 1 antibusing resolution approved by the panel after listening to more than 40 speakers on the subject during a two-hour hearing.

In the latest busing resolution, offered by board member Kathleen Brown Rice, the board ordered its Citizens Advisory Council for School Integration to develop a "positive program for people integration" as soon as possible.

Pancake breakfast planned

The Westmont Teen Club in Pomona will sponsor a pancake breakfast Saturday, March 20, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. at the Westmont Community Center.

Proceeds will be used for trips and other club activities.

Cost is $1.25 per person.

The author of the measure, who seconded the original resolution, said her substitute motion did not represent a change of her personal feelings against compulsory busing. She said she offered the second measure to bring people together and promote full debate on the issue.

Board member Richard Ferraro cast the only dissenting vote against the people integration resolution, saying it left open the possibility of forced busing.

Ferraro said he would move to appeal any court order requiring children to be bused out of their neighborhoods.

Howard Miller, who authored the antibusing resolution, voted for Mrs. Rice's motion but said the board's earlier antibusing stand should remain on the record.

Gold rush

The Klondike gold rush started with the discovery of gold on Bonanza Creek just east of Alaska's border with Canada, Aug. 16, 1896.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you're involved in any type of handiwork today where you have to follow written instructions, study them carefully before proceeding.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll be sociable and communicative today, but you could be turned off by persons who are not in tune with your current interest.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) People who come to your place today are likely to enjoy themselves so much you could have trouble shoeing them home when it's time to leave.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Listen attentively today if you're told a message of importance, or there's a possibility some facts may escape you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Through lack of alertness there's a chance you may not capitalize on an expected opportunity today. Be on your toes businesswise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't let indecisiveness on your part complicate the plans of persons you may be involved with. Consider how your decisions might affect them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be careful today not to oversell. As soon as others are in accord with your ideas it's a clue to stop talking.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could encounter someone socially today whom you're not overly fond of. Avoid a lengthy conversation. Cross words may ensue.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you're more skillful or lucky at something today than your competitors, don't rub it in. A thoughtless remark could hurt a friendship.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Everyone is entitled to their opinion. Don't be disappointed today if something you feel strongly about is only viewed lukewarmly by another.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A proposition that you may become interested in today could have some strings attached. Weigh its merits and costs carefully.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) To please another today you may agree to something, hoping inwardly you won't have to keep the bargain. Be wary. Your promise will be taken seriously.

Your Birthday, March 14, 1976

This coming year you may form an alliance with a very unusual person. Your new friend will have a wide range of interests and will help broaden your outlook considerably.

Home economic winner is a boy

The winner of Lincoln High School's Betty Crocker Search for Leadership contest says it wasn't his knowledge about home economics that made him the best.

Tarkanian wants chance at UCLA

NCAA playoffs begin

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Jerry Tarkanian, coach of the nation's highest scoring major college basketball team, hopes the experts are right.

The experts who predict his team, fourth-ranked NevadaLas Vegas, and sixth-rated UCLA will win NCAA basketball playoff games tonight at the University of Oregon campus.

Tarkanian wants a shot at UCLA, the Pacific-8 Conference champion and last year's NCAA titlist.

"We have a tough time getting Pac-8 schools to play us," Tarkanian said. "I had the same problem at Long Beach."

UCLA, which has won 10 of the last 12 NCAA basketball championships, meets San Diego State and NevadaLas Vegas takes on Boise State in Eugene. The winners advance to the western regionals March 18 and 20 at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion.

KOOP (Channel 13) will telecast the UCLA-San Diego State game beginning at 9 p.m.

Tarkanian, whose Rebels are 28-1 this year and averaging 110.8 points a game, would like nothing better than to take on the Bruins at Pauley. "That's great," he said. "That's one way of getting on UCLA's schedule."

Both teams can't overlook their opponents in Eugene, and both Tarkanian and UCLA Coach Gene Bartow say that won't happen.

"We realize that any team that reaches the NCAA tournament is a fine basketball team," said Bartow, whose Bruins are 23-4 and defeated San Diego State by 15 points early in the season.

San Diego State, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association representative, is 16-12 but isn't awed by the Bruins.

"We look to the Oregon win over UCLA as our inspiration," said Ray Leary, the San Diego State playmaker. "The Ducks played basically hard-nosed against the Bruins. They moved the ball and played tough, and I think we will, too."

UCLA is lead by 6-foot-9 junior Rich Washington, an All-American second team selection who averages 20.6 points and nine rebounds a game. San Diego State has two top players in 6-7 Steve Copp and 6-8 Will Connelly.

Boise State, a big underdog, nevertheless is not awed by NevadaLas Vegas, an independent.

"A lot of people thought we had a very slim chance in the Big Sky playoff last weekend," said Boise State Coach Bus Connor, whose Broncos won a pair of games there to earn the Eugene trip.

Pat Hoke, a 6-8 center, and Steve Connor, a sophomore guard, are averaging 17.5 and 16.6 points a game for Boise State this season.

The Broncos, 18-10, will face a NevadaLas Vegas team led by Eddie Owens, who is averaging 23.5 a game.

Kuhn may take some action

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Commissioner Bowie Kuhn checked into St. Petersburg, where players and owners have been negotiating, raising speculation Friday night that he may step into the impasse that has closed spring training camps and threatened the opening of the baseball season.

The commissioner was evasive when questioned about the purpose of his visit, saying only, "If anything happens, we will let you know."

He did say that he had a busy schedule today.

Owners and players have scheduled a renewal of talks over the new and unsettled players agreement for 7 a.m., PST, today. They have said they will continue negotiations over the weekend and into next week in a strong effort to arrive at a solution.

A three-hour meeting Friday ended with no significant progress and with both sides issuing bitter statements. The players also dropped a bombshell by announcing the suspension of all informal training camps which they had been carrying on scatteredly on their own time and with their money.

Kuhn has remained quiet while negotiators have sought to iron out a format which both sides contend may set the structure of baseball for years to come.

In an unofficial presentation of a position paper several days ago, Kuhn said that he felt his obligation as commissioner was to see that talks toward a solution continued to make progress.

"If there's any indication that either side is purposely failing to keep a proper progress going and the best interests of the game are impaired, there could be reason for the commissioner to step in," he said. But he would not say that was why he appeared here.

Both owners' and players' representatives appeared edgy after Friday's abbreviated session.

"They felt they had our swords and now they want our horses," said Chub Feeney, president of the National League and a member of management's Player Relations Committee.

Marvin Miller, the suave executive director of the Players Association, reacted like a man struck in the face with a telephone pole.

"They want us to slit our throats, ear to halfway, and then they say, 'We'll help you wipe up the blood,'" countered Miller.

With the scheduled opening of the season less than a month away, April 8, and talks reaching a critical phase, the two groups agreed to meet again here early today.

"They promised they would have some new ideas," said Lee

MacPhail, president of the American league.

Miller denied MacPhail's assertion that the players' committee had shut off the day's negotiations and asked for a renewal today.

While the pre-noon session was in progress, Tom Seaver, the New York Mets' ace pitcher, was dropping a bombshell with tremendous impact on the situation.

After meeting with a collection of some 40 players, representing the Mets, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates, Seaver announced:

"This is the last workout at this camp. The players have decided to cut out their informal training camps everywhere. They came to the decision Thursday over at Tampa.

"Their feeling was that time was now a critical factor, and that by working out at this point in time, was only helping the owners continue their lockout.

"The executives know we are working out. They can say, 'Why should we open the camps when the players are working out on their own?' We are not doing this in the sense of forcing an agreement. We hope it helps to get the official camps open."

Redmen face entire state

By Associated Press

"It's a different day, a different site and different circumstances," says St. John's Coach Lou Carnesecca—but it's the same old Indiana.

Carnesecca knows what it's like to go up against the top-ranked, unbeaten Hoosiers—his Redmen lost to Indiana 76-69 in the final of the ECAC Holiday Festival Tournament in December. That was played before a highly partisan sellout crowd of 19,694 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

And he knows things will be different today when his 17th-ranked Redmen face Indiana at South Bend, Ind., in one of 16 first-round games of the NCAA basketball tournament.

"We're not only playing Scott May and Bobby Knight, we're taking on the whole state of Indiana," said Carnesecca of the Midwest Regional matchup. But he doesn't mind the challenge: "You can't run and hide—sooner or later, you're going to have to play the executioner."

The Hoosiers have left 27 regular-season opponents by the wayside and head into the playoffs with a perfect record for the second year in a row. Last year Indiana—with May, its All-American forward, still not recovered from a broken arm—was ousted by Kentucky in the final of the Midwest Regional.

"We enter this tournament more settled than a year ago," said Knight. "Last year we were still making adjustments for Scott May's loss and playing it day-to-day on the possibility of his recovery to the point where he would again be a factor. We go into this tournament healthy and, I think, playing well."

The Indiana-St. John's matchup, starting at 11:15 a.m. PST, will be the middle game of a tripleheader to be televised by NBC. Two games will be shown regionally starting at 9:15 a.m.: Alabama against North Carolina from the Midwest Regional and Princeton vs. Rutgers from the East. The Cincinnati-Notre Dame Midwest Regional contest, starting at 1:15, concludes the TV lineup.

In other games, VMI meets Tennessee, Virginia plays DePaul and Hofstra opposes Connecticut in the East Regional; Western Kentucky plays Marquette and Western Michigan goes against Virginia Tech in the Midwest; Texas Tech meets Syracuse, Wichita State faces Michigan and Missouri opposes Washington in the Midwest, and Pepperdine goes against Memphis State, Arizona meets Georgetown, Boise State faces NevadaLas Vegas and San Diego St. plays UCLA in the West.

The center position could hold the key to the Indiana-St. John's encounter—Kent Benson, 6 feet 11, 245 pounds, for Indiana; George Johnson, 6-7, 195, for St. John's.

In the teams' first meeting, Benson, a first-team All-American, got into early foul trouble and played just 16 minutes, scoring four points.

"Benson is not a basketball player, he's an aircraft carrier," he said. "We have nobody who can play him. Hey, I love my kids—I wouldn't assign any one man to Benson. George Johnson will get a piece of him, John Farmer will get a piece of him, Beaver Smith will get a piece of him, my trainer will get a piece of him...."

"He's an All-American, he has his picture on the covers of magazines," said Johnson. "He's supposed to be the best, and I like to put my game up against the best. He's strong and physical, but I'm a lot quicker. He'd better be on his toes."

Buena, Poly in 4-A finals

LONG BEACH — Favorite Long Beach Poly and Buena advanced to the finals of the CIF 4-A basketball playoffs by winning semifinal games at the Long Beach Arena Friday night.

Poly (29-1) and Buena (23-6) will clash for the title tonight at 9 p.m. in the last of four championship games.

Top-ranked Poly stopped Verbum Dei, 30-46, in the first game Friday and surprising Buena, the team that eliminated Chaffey from the playoffs, beat Millikan, 50-43.

The other title games today will pit Morro Bay (25-2) against Big Bear (27-2) in the 1-A finale at 1 p.m.; Mission Viejo (24-4) against Rowland (22-6) in the 2-A contest at 2:45 p.m. and Palm Springs (22-3) against Lynwood (28-3) in the 3-A matchup at 7:15 p.m.

Hayes takes Doral lead

MIAMI (AP) — Jack Nicklaus' challenge ended in the water on the 18th hole and young Mark Hayes, a non-winner in two years on the pro golf tour, slipped into the second-round lead Friday in the $200,000 Doral Open.

Hayes, a soft-spoken 26-year-old from Oklahoma, fashioned a four-under-par 68 and established a one-shot lead at 135, nine-under-par for two trips over the windswept, 7,065-yard Blue Monster Course at the Doral Country Club.

Nicklaus, the defending champion and pre-tourney favorite, once moved to within two strokes of the lead but "did absolutely nothing on the back nine," he said.

He capped his back nine woes with a tee shot into the lake that lines the left side of the fairway and the front of the green on the tough 18th hole.

He finished with a 71 and was five shots back at 140.

"I just couldn't get myself moving," Nicklaus said. "I'll do better tomorrow."

Hubert Green three-putted twice but still managed a 70 that left him one shot back at 136.

Ben Crenshaw, who shared the first-round lead with Green, scrambled to a 71 and 137.

Bonita wins HL opener

By TIM CLARK

PB Correspondent

Bruce Hines arose from the dead and Bill Bumstead, as healthy as ever, toyed his way for another complete game victory, as the duo led the Bearcats in a 6-2 romp over Alta Loma at the Braves field Friday in the Hacienda opener.

Hines exploded for three hits in as many times at bat, tripling in one run, bunting home another, scored once himself, and picked up a stolen base.

The 5-10 senior second baseman, who had set the valley baseball world rocking on its heels this past summer in American Legion play by hitting an astounding .464 (20 stolen bases), had found his troubles at the plate prior to Friday's game.

Hines entered the contest batting a meager .117 with only one stolen base and RBI, and found himself demoted all the way to the No. 9 spot in the lineup after opening the season at the accustomed No. 1 position. Chances are that Bruce won't be batting at the bottom any longer.

"Bruce had done an excellent job defensively, but was very disappointing offensively," commented Bonita skipper Dick Salomon. "Today was just what he needed, he's going to be very tough from now on."

"I never really got that down on myself," added Hines. "I knew that it would be just a matter of time... it sure feels good!"

Bumstead was something else in the late innings picking up his third victory of the year without a loss. The 6-0 senior right-hander gave up his first earned run of the year in the Braves first, "raising" his season ERA to 0.31.

Bumstead, a two-time All-CIF first team selection (and the Hacienda's MVP as a sophomore), now holds career marks of 23 wins, five losses, and 0.98 ERA. He is no slouch with the aluminum either, picking up two hits in four at bats, raising his season mark to .384.

With the exception of an unstable first inning, Bumstead was practically flawless throughout. The Braves scored their only runs of the day in the frame, using two of their three hits, including a two-run triple by Mike Sloan. Bumstead blew down the hosts the final six frames, racking up eight strikeouts, allowing only two walks, and winding up the afternoon with an excellent 83 pitches.

"Ah yes, great day, great day," joked Bumstead. "We can throw that first inning out the window through, if you don't mind!"

"Bill has just been exceptional for us," said Salomon. "He's been doing the job just great this year, as has Ralph Ortega, Scott Johnson, and Beto Bernal, to name a few. The other people don't worry me, because I know that they're ready to explode any time now."

The Bearcats' "big" inning came in the sixth, as pinch-hitter Jeff Pence led off the frame with a clean single to right. Pence, who uses a calendar as a stopwatch, advanced to second on an errant pick-off throw by Brave pitcher Steve Cuccia. Soph Bob Vidaure sacrificed Pence to third, and the senior slowster tallied on a perfect RBI bunt by Hines. After stealing second, Hines crossed home on a chalk-double by Ortega.

Cuccia (0-3) lasted six and two-thirds innings for the Braves, struck out eight, walked three, allowed only three earned runs, and threw 104 pitches.

Anthony Vasquez, who suffered a bruised knee in action earlier in the week, did not start, but flew out deep to center in the seventh, seeing duty as a pinch-hitter.

Scott Johnson, the fearsome (6-2, 195) catcher of the Bearcats, drew two walks, stole second twice, scored a run, and gunned down Bret Henderson on Alta Loma in an attempted steal with a perfect strike to Hines to end the game.

Bonita (1-0, 4-3) will travel to Gladstone (0-1, 2-5) on Tuesday, while the Braves (0-1, 0-5-1) will visit San Dimas (0-1, 4-3). Both games begin at 3:15 p.m.

The victory broke a three-game Laker losing streak. They will host Buffalo Sunday night at 7 p.m.

Abdul-Jabbar's performance was backed by balanced scoring from Cazzie Russell and Gail Goodrich with 14 points each, Lucius Allen with 13, Connie Warner with 12 and Corky Calhoun and Don Freeman 10 apiece.

The Knicks were led by Spencer Haywood with 17 points, John Gianelli with 16 and Earl Monroe with 14.

Los Angeles broke the game open in the third quarter and led by as much as 15 points at 75-60 with 5:41 to play.

The Knicks closed to nine points on Jim Barnett's reverse lay-in with 1:42 remaining in the third quarter but the Lakers closed the period leading 87-73.

The Lakers turned hot in the third quarter, hitting 13 of 19 of their shots from the floor, and the Knicks turned frigid, making but two of their first 12 shots and hitting just eight of 30 in the period. On one stretch Los Angeles outscored the Knicks 17-2.

Los Angeles battled back from a first-quarter deficit, and Allen's fast-break basket gave them a 56-52 lead at halftime.

Abdul-Jabbar had 22 points and 13 rebounds at the halfway mark, leading both teams in each department.

Santa Ana eliminated

FRESNO (AP) — Long Beach and Compton won semifinal games Friday night to reach the finals of the California large-schools community college basketball championships.

Long Beach defeated Contra Costa 85-67, while Compton edged Santa Ana 83-81 in overtime. Long Beach, 25-5, was paced by Dean Decker and Rod Dalton with 16 points each.

Compton, 22-9, trailed Santa Ana, 22-9, by 11 points at halftime but made up the deficit with an early second-half burst. The teams were tied 72-72 at the end of regulation play.

Santa Ana's Blake Taylor topped all scorers with 29 points, while Larry Moffett had 20 for Compton.

Butte and Menlo won small college division semifinals earlier Friday night and will meet Saturday for the championship.

Butte, of Oroville, last year's champion, was hard-pressed to beat Barstow 59-58. Menlo, the 1974 winner, captured a lowscoring contest from Cuesta 38-29.

Prep baseball roundup

Tigers top Eisenhower

Chaffey High, Walnut and American Christian all got off on a winning note in league baseball openers Friday afternoon while Montclair, Chino and Webb lost non-league games and Ganesha and Claremont each tied a contest with a non-league foe.

Host Chaffey beat Eisenhower, 7-3, Walnut stopped Gladstone, 4-1, and American Christian dumped Orange Lutheran, 6-1. Montclair fell to Northview, 10-9. Chino was nipped at Nogales, 6-5, and Webb lost to San Jacinto, 6-4.

Ganesha tied host Baldwin Park, 3-3, while Claremont traveled to Charter Oak for a 5-5 deadlock. Ganesha's contest was called for darkness after nine innings; Claremont's ended after seven.

Chaffey starter and winner Ken Owens (2-0) allowed just one run on five hits through the first six innings, but Eisenhower sandwiched a walk and a double around a Tiger error to open the seventh and Anthony Munoz replaced Owens. Munoz struck out the side while giving up a single and hitting a batter.

Ruben Soto of the Tigers drove in two runs with a triple in the first inning and teammate Rick Fehauer went three for four with two RBI.

Walnut came up with three runs in the top of the seventh inning to support Bob Cordova's two-hit pitching. Bruce Byers singled in two of those runs.

Mustang reliever Butch Long retired the last three batters after Gladstone opened the bottom of the 'Pack wins swim meet

Claremont High varsity swimmers kept their season going Friday with a 93-63 win over Covina.

The team now has a record of 10-0-1 — it was tied by Redlands — with its final meeting coming up Wednesday against Chino.

Claremont's junior varsity team won its meet against Covina's JVs, 81-16, and the freshman-sophomore squad splashed to 92-42 victory.

Stags win, 7-2

Claremont-Mudd's Stags improved their tennis record to 8-3 Friday afternoon with a 7-2 victory over host Cal State Northridge.

The Stags will attempt to improve upon their 6-0 SCIAC ledger today at 9 a.m. when they host La Verne.

Titans rally to beat Poly

By BRENT SHYER
PB Correspondent

When the Titans of Cal State Fullerton score, they do it in bundles!

Trailing 2-1 in the eighth inning, the Orange County crew rallied for nine runs to pull away from Cal Poly to win going away, 10-4, Friday afternoon at Poly's Kellogg Field.

The loss dropped the Broncos record to 9-12-1 for the season, and it was the third time this year that Poly was dumped by Fullerton.

Today the Broncos will take that mark into a doubleheader against the Pepperdine Waves at Malibu. In the first game starting at noon, Broncos' head coach John Scolinos will send Bruce Mac Pherson to the mound and then he will come back with Tom Rosenstein in the nightcap.

The Broncos were sailing along through seven innings with a 2-1 lead, when starting pitcher Rick Schwenn tired and then lightning struck.

Schwenn allowed two singles and he was lifted for reliever Gil Molina.

Leos, Stags begin SCIAC play

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

The last two teams to start conference play begin SCIAC competition this afternoon.

Doubleheader action is scheduled everywhere with first games starting at noon.

La Verne College, 3-8 overall, hosts Occidental, 2-1 in league play at La Verne. Defending champion Claremont-Mudd, 4-4 overall, takes on Redlands, 1-2 in league action. Pomona-Pitzer, 3-6 overall and 2-1 in the SCIAC, plays host to league leading Whittier, 3-0. Caltech, 0-6, gets the bye. In order to make up games easier, the league has gone to a Saturday-Tuesday scheduling this year, reversing the old Tuesday-Saturday mode of play.

Thus the teams playing today are playing the first and second games of the three-game series instead of the second and third. The third games will be played next Tuesday. Hence La Verne will be at Oxy, C-M at Redlands and Pomona-Pitzer at Whittier all in single games at 3 p.m.

Coach Bill Arce of C-M will probably use Joe Maiburger (3-0) and either Bob Phee (0-1) or Norm Richards (1-3) against Redlands.

At La Verne, Ben Hines will probably pitch Jim Vallone (1-4) in one of the games and either Tim Kelly (0-2) or Joe McLaughlin (1-0) in the other.

Mike Riskas of Pomona-Pitzer has Ken Creager (2-1) and Nick Dialynas (0-1) primed for Whittier.

Both Claremont-Mudd and La Verne, the number one and two teams in the SCIAC last year, have had fielding problems. It's unusual because the Stags are a veteran crew and the Leos, although a new ball club, are rated top notch talent.

However, both clubs have been making errors with surprising frequency. The Stags have 19 miscues in eight games. The Leopards have 24 in 11 games.

This has been the main reason why each club does not have a better record. Until the Leos' Arizona trip, Hines had been unhappy with the number of runs his team was producing.

But La Verne came to life in Arizona. Leo hitters pounded Arizona and Arizona State hurling for 35 runs and 59 hits. But Leopard pitching was tagged for 46 runs and 59 hits. As a result, La Verne won once in five games.

Over at Pomona-Pitzer, Greg Holden of the Sageshens has been pounding the ball. The junior shortstop has 19 hits in 32 at bats for a nifty .538 average.

Riska has three players that have stolen 24 bases between them.

Owls win easy one

Citrus College's track team had no trouble disposing of visiting San Diego City College Friday afternoon, 125-20.

Mark Velasquez of the Owls turned in the top Citrus season — 50 feet, 4 1/4 inches — and won the discus as well. Teammate Hurha Hill triple jumped 45-11 for a new meet record while miller Parry Kleinsasser turned in his career best of 26.1.

The Owls placed first in every event.

Citrus, 3-0 in Mission Conference meets, will host San Bernardino Valley College next Friday.

Antique wise

Ornamented candle box

QUESTION: I will appreciate your comments on the probable age of this very old hanging candle box shown here. Its lift top and two front panels — one a drawer — are ornamented with hand-gouged carvings which I believe includes dots, trees, crescents, portions of a flower; then on the lift top is a perfectly formed flower or rosette located in the center. The tiny pull on the drawer is ivory. This box measures 11 3/4 inches across the front, is 6 1/2 inches deep, and to the center of the backboard, is 15 1/4 inches high. The wood is oak, with traces of black paint.

Although antiques aren't my bag, I do follow my wife around to the shops on occasions. It was during one of our trips East that we found this box — in five pieces. I was so intrigued by the carvings and apparent age, that I felt it might be worth saving. The antique dealer could only tell us that it had originally been in a college professor's collection. Now that I have finally restored this box, I'd like to know more about its age and origin. M.T.D.

ANSWER: I believe your hanging wall box to be of New Haven origin. The town was settled in Connecticut in 1638 by a group of English immigrants. Approximately forty pieces of furniture made in and around the New Haven Colony during the century of settlement have survived. The carvings on your box are very characteristic of those of a blanket chest which is believed to date as early as 1640 — and is now located at Yale University Art Gallery.

So you think that overpopulation is something that has risen up to plague us only during the past decade. Well don't be too sure! Here in Pomona we were worrying about the evils of excess population as long ago as 1904. In fact, it had become of such serious concern that the editor of The Pomona Daily Review, on Aug. 1, 1904, described with ominous foreboding what was happening in the City of Los Angeles because of the over-zealous activities of Southern California's real estate developers.

"The City Councilmen in Los Angeles are seriously thinking of abandoning all the pretty artificial lakes in the parks there because of the growing scarcity of water caused by the needs of the fast growing population which needs every drop of water for household and lawn use," he wrote. "It is proposed to make a Grecian amphitheater of the hollow in Westlake Park now occupied by the lake. What to do with the basins of the lakes in the other parks is a problem."

Yes, that's what the overpopulation scare was doing to us here in the Southland over 70 years ago. But take heart, even though we grew and grew during the decade following that 1904 overpopulation scare, we've still managed to exist — and I predict that 70 years from now our children and our children's children will still be worrying about what overpopulation is going to do to us but seemingly never does.

Shelby Lyman on chess

Just call it 'fighting spirit'

After 20-year-old Bill Koch won a surprise silver medal in a Winter Olympics long distance skiing event, he described the discomfort that normally accompanied such exertions. Mental factors decided the winner among performers of the same physical ability, he said.

Michael Botvinnik, the most successful chess-player of all during the last 40 years, would agree. This Russian engineer was World Champion in 13 years of the 15-year period 1948-1963. Since his reign, not one of four successive title-holders has had a significant tenure. Though the new champion, Anatoly Karpov, Bobby Fischer's successor, may be the first exception.

It is interesting that young Karpov, an incomparable fighter on the chessboard himself, confesses a debt to the older grandmaster. "He (Botvinnik) made me aware of the seriousness of chess and of the fact that even the most talented of players could not go far without diligent and painstaking work."

Now Botvinnik has new proteges. One of them, 12-year-old Harry Kasparov, has recently won the USSR chess championship for teenagers! Another of his pupils finished third.

What secrets of will and fighting spirit has the ex-World Champion passed on to the youth? Will Botvin-nik now dominate world chess by proxy?

How to Lose Quickly?

An international tournament is often a boon for local masters who get a rare opportunity to play some of the world's better players.

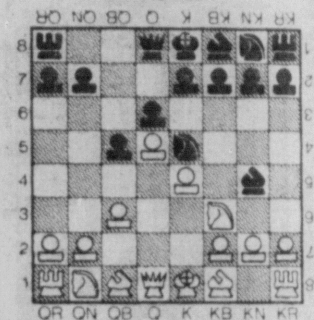

Last August at Olomouc, the indiginous Czechoslovakian Traunicek had such a chance. But he gained notoriety by losing an embarrassingly brief game to the tournament winner, ex-Soviet Champion Alexander Suetin.

In the diagrammed position, Traunicek incorrectly assumed that the white knight was pinned down at KB3. He had apparently overlooked the vulnerability of his own king. When Suetin surprised with 6.NxN, Traunicek could only despairingly capture the black queen with his bishop. A few moves later, he resigned after 7.B-N5ch, Q-Q2; 8. BxQch. Too much material would be lost.

BEGINNER'S CORNER — Hint and explanation: The black queen and king are on a dangerous diagonal which is blocked only by a black knight.

Pomona College dedicates newest building

ON THE COVER

The new $660,000 Albert Thille Botany Building at Pomona College will be dedicated Sunday afternoon. The structure, featuring a large, open atrium, or courtyard, with a running spring, field boulders and redwood beams, was designed by the Claremont firm of Tozier & Abbott. On the steps, botany instructor Tom Mulroy discusses the new building with research associates Sally Vogel, center, and Kaaren Page.

Pomona College will dedicate its newest building, the $660,000 Albert Thille Botany Building, with appropriate ceremonies Sunday afternoon.

President David Alexander will preside. The speaker will be George W. Beadle, Nobel laureate in physiology and medicine and retired president of the University of Chicago.

The one-story structure at Harvard Avenue and Sixth Street is named in memory of Albert Thille, a Ventura citrus rancher. The Thille Foundation made the principal gift of $290,000 for the building. The balance of the funds came from the estate of John and Magdalena Dexter and other donors.

The Thille Building is laid out around a handsome atrium, or courtyard, containing a running stream, several pools, large boulders, trees and plantings of lilies, ferns and other water-loving plants. The atrium is roofed as a greenhouse with redwood lath, the strips set apart to admit sunlight and rain.

The classrooms, laboratories, library and even the department offices all face inward on the courtyard and are open to it by large windows and sliding glass doors, lending an indoor-outdoor atmosphere to the entire structure.

Of special interest to botanists are two rooms called phytotrons. Edwin Phillips, chairman of the botany department, says phytotron is "just a fancy word for greenhouse." The glass-ceilinged rooms have sophisticated instruments for controlling temperature and humidity and creating a wide variety of climates for plant experiments.

Throughout, the new botany building is adorned in heavy, dark wood, lending a rough-hewn complement to the bosky atmosphere of labs and the atrium.

An unusual feature is the specially designed sprinkler system that provides the appropriate amount of water for the plants around the building. The plantings cover a wide variety of native vegetation ranging from trees and plants that grow in wet areas to desert vegetation, and the sprinklers are adjusted to give each the correct amount of moisture.

The Thille Building was designed by the Claremont firm of Tozier & Abbott, and the plantings by Ray Orton and Associates of Ontario.

To salute the new building, botany students, faculty and alumni commissioned a 6½-foot cast bronze sculpture by Claremont artist Linus Naujokaitis, a stylized, impressionistic work as yet untitled.

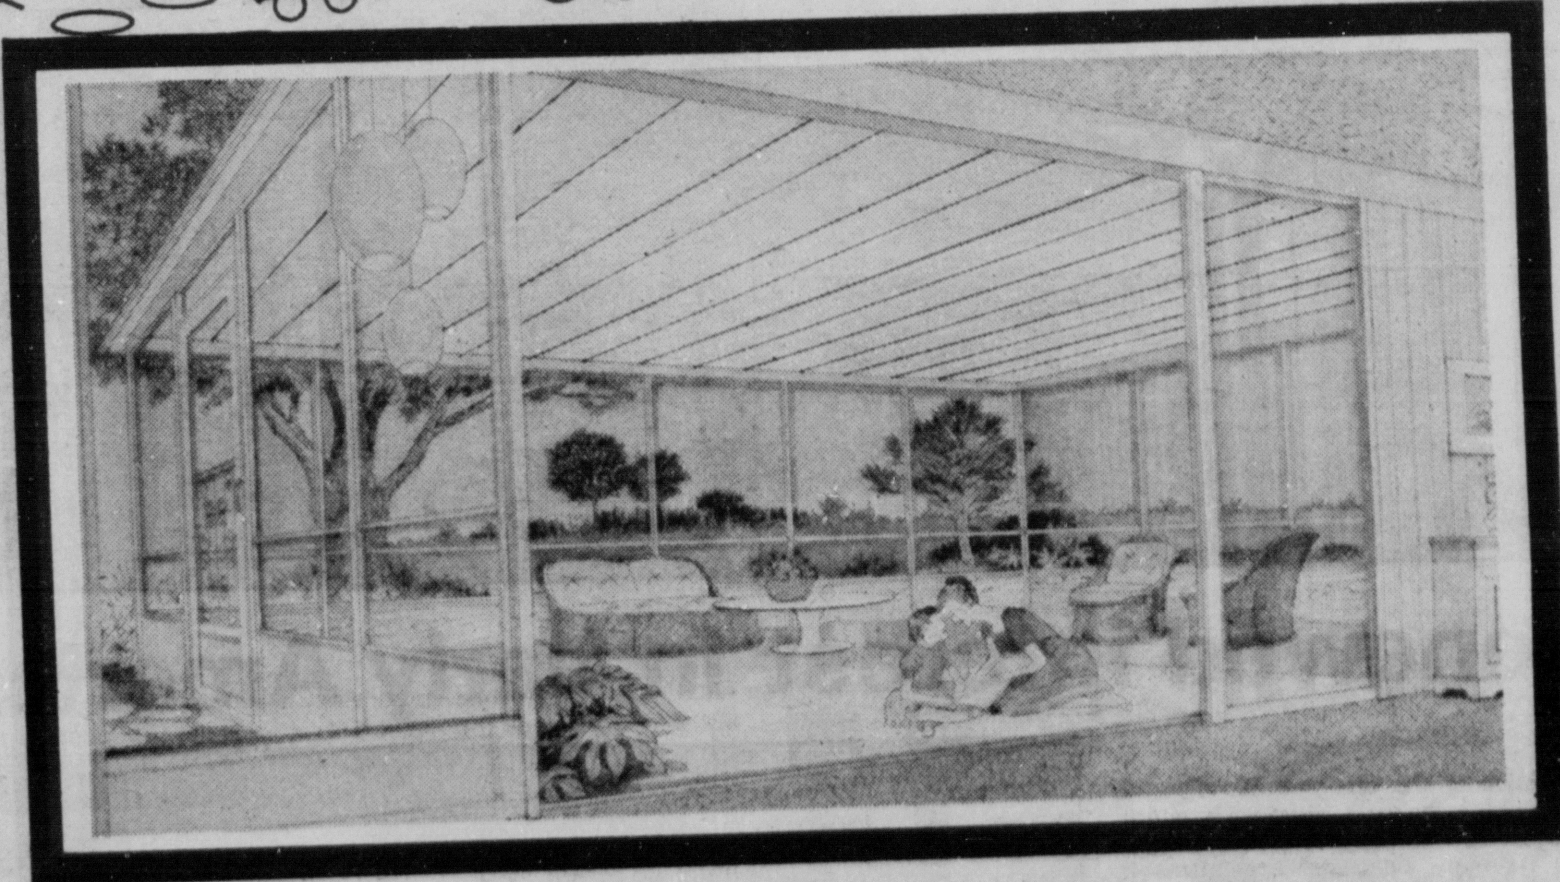

Phillips says that because of the renewed interest in ecology and the environment in the past few years, enrollment in botany classes has increased, with twice as many students majoring in the field as there were 10 years ago.

The Albert Thille Botany Building will provide a versatile and highly attractive center for these studies.

A renewed interest in 'early American'

With the celebration of the country's Bicentennial, many people are rediscovering early American furniture, says Jim Cave, owner of The Maple Shop in Glendora.

The store, as its name suggests, specializes in traditional, early American maple furniture.

"Business began picking up last year and it looks like it will continue this year. Everyone is interested in early American furniture this year because of the Bicentennial," said Cave.

Normally, he explained, the demand for the traditional wood furniture is fairly constant, trailing contemporary styles and trends at any given time.

But many people eventually tire of changing styles and turn to the traditional lines for their beauty and stability of style. That process is now being speeded up because of the Bicentennial interest in the early American period.

The Maple Shop, now in its eighth year in Glendora at 19257 E. Alosta Ave., stocks more than $200,000 in maple and birch furniture, plus a wide selection of lamps, pictures, accessories and knick-knacks.

Brand names displayed in the 20,000-square-foot showroom include Heywood Wakefield, Sprague Carlton, Temple Stuart, Hitchcock and many others.

Cave also noted an upsurge in the public's interest in "rustic, pine furniture," which can be found at The Maple Shop.

The Maple Shop was founded in 1933 by Cave's father, Gail. In addition to the Glendora store, there is a store in Glendale.

In addition to Cave, The Maple Shop in Glendora is staffed by Tom Kellogg, manager, and Dan Perry, salesman.

The store offers free delivery and set-up of furniture, and a one-year guarantee.

Store hours are 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and until 9 p.m. on Mondays and Fridays.

PLAY TO OPEN

"The Sound of Music" will be presented March 18, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. by the Ganesha High School Drama Department.

Under the direction of Fran Van Horn, it will be staged at the Pomona Education Center Auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave.

Tickets are $1.25 for students with ASB cards, $1.50 for students without ASB cards, and $1.75 for adults.

The play is based on the true story of "The Trapp Family Singers" by Maria Trapp.

This production was in jeopardy because of the recent fire in the prop and costume room at Ganesha which destroyed stage props, costumes and furniture.

Mrs. Van Horn has asked for donations of old clothes and furniture for the drama department. Anyone with articles to donate may call her at 623-5251, Ext. 468.

Rowland High School will present its spring production, "Story Theater," March 24-27 at 8 p.m. at the Rowland High School Little Theater.

Cadet First Lt. Matthew W. Kettle of La Verne, a senior at Kemper Military School and College in Boonville, Mo., has been placed on the first semester honor roll.

Kettle holds membership in three of Kemper's four honor societies, Scholastic, Military and Athletic. He maintained a 92 per cent grade average the first semester while playing football with Kemper's Golden Knights.

Kettle was named by the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association to the All State First Team, Offensive Half Back, Division 1A.

ALHS DANCE TONIGHT

The Band Boosters of Alta Loma High School will sponsor a dinner-dance tonight at Sweeten Hall, 9324 San Bernardino Road, Cucamonga. Dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. with dancing from 8 to midnight.

The St. Patrick's dinner-dance is being held to raise money for the music scholarship fund of the Boosters and the music department. The scholarship will be awarded at the close of the year to a deserving student musician.

Tickets cost $4.50 each or $8 per couple for adults and $3.50 each or $6 per couple for students.

Door prizes will be awarded during the evening.

LA PUENTE BUILDS PRIDE

The La Puente High School Associated Student Body Friday dedicated table-benches purchased with ASB funds and placed on campus.

"The 10 new table-bench combinations will provide the La Puente High School students with more facilities," said ASB president Tony Moreno.

The Pride Constructors, a parent's group formed to help build a better image at the school, served refreshments.

Goals of this group are to eliminate racial overtones on campus, promote brotherhood, increase goodwill activities, provide rational and effective ways to solve campus conflicts, foster a positive environment for the operation of the committee, help in emergency situations, expand awareness and understanding and to enrich the committee by encouraging the community to contribute resources and share in a creative approach.

"We must have community control with some clout to it," said Mrs. Ruby Travis, chairman.

"The main purpose is to help the teachers and the school to provide a quality education. They would like to start opening communication between the school and community."

Those desiring to help may call administrative assistant Ed Garcia at (213) 336-1241.

VICA trains pupils for trades

By Rosemari Angelica
Ganesha Correspondent

Do you have a high school diploma but find that you can not get a job because you do not have the training?

If you find yourself in that situation, it's too bad you did not know about Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) when you were in school.

If you are in high school but have no plans for the future, it's lucky you are reading this. You have an opportunity to join CIA.

TRADES

VICA is a club designed for students in industrial arts classes. Its purpose is to prepare students for jobs in the industrial trades.

The Ganesha High School Chapter of VICA has 18 members. Graphic arts teacher Kenyon B. Avey is the adviser. He also is a section adviser for Los Angeles County.

At Ganesha, VICA members are preparing for the U.S. Skill Olympics and VICA Week which will be held March 20-27.

OLYMPICS

Regional Skill Olympics competitions will be held March 20 at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut and Citrus College in Azusa. Winners in skill events there will go on to compete at a state convention May 7-9 in Anaheim.

The contestants from Ganesha will be Jeff Collar, wood shop; Mark Collar, alternate in wood shop; Jim Fitz, welding; Lance Ebarb, graphic arts; Willie Fruga, architectural drafting; Bob Zunde, alternate in architectural drafting; Rosemari Angelica, auto mechanics; Margie Hoffman, job interview; and Bruce Fuller, machine drafting.

Adults serving on the Ganesha Advisory Council to VICA are Art Noyes, a work experience coordinator at Ganesha; Wade Albers, an employee of the Quest Publishing Co. in Industry; Steve Harsany, electronics instructor at Ganesha; and Regina Klump, a graduate of Ganesha and past president of Ganesha Chapter of VICA who won a Skill Olympics state championship.

500 seek jobs in Walnut

More than 500 students at Walnut High School have registered for temporary and part-time work with the Walnut Youth Employment Office, situated on campus.

Anyone desiring to employ a student may do so by calling 598-2312 or 595-7481.

The students range in age from 13 to 19 and some have skills and training for clerical work, retail sales, food service, hospital aide and service station work.

Others are interested in household jobs such as cleaning, yardwork, baby-sitting, window washing and house painting.

The Youth Employment Office is co-sponsored by the California Employment Development Department which has provided a professional placement interviewer, Morris Dickson. The office takes job offers Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Backwards is 'cool' at Pomona

By VALERIE GARRETT
Pomona Correspondent

This coming week, March 15-19, Pomona High School students will participate in the activities of the annual Backwards Week.

This year's theme will be "Ain't No Bout A Doubt It."

The activities for the week will kick off with the announcement of the nine boy finalists for the Backwards Court. Names of the finalists will be announced by Karen Petett at lunchtime in the snackbar area. Each finalist will be presented with a boutonniere by his escort. The escorts will be Dana Terry, Valerie Doby, Diane Rusler, Teresa Alvares, Kim No-land, Mercy Schubert, Doris Torres, Kathy Triana and Kerry Bustos.

The finalists will then move on to a "Mr. Cool" contest. The finalist who can stand on a block of ice in his bare feet for the longest time will be the reigning "Mr. Cool."

Other activities of the week will include a cracker eating contest, transportation day featuring a tricycle race at lunchtime, a gunny sack race, a class competition tug of war and a backwards fashion show on Friday, with the guys modeling girls' clothes.

The culmination of the week will be the backwards dance which will be held in Davenport Hall on the La Verne College campus. The reigning backwards king will be announced at the dance.

Park pupils on whaling cruise

"There She Blows!"

This was a common cry back in the days of the early Boston Whalers. However, recently the students of Park Ave High School in Pomona re-lived some of the excitement that must have been experienced by those early whalers.

A small group of students, along with their science teacher Robert Jones, boarded the ship "Voyager" at Redondo Beach for a four-hour "whale watching" expedition that proved to be one of the highlights this year for Park Avenue students. The migration of the California gray whale was observed.

The California gray whale is the best known of the great whales in our state and the one most often seen. In an article published by the American Cetacean Society, which states, "Gray whales feed in summer in the western Bering Sea and adjacent Arctic Ocean. In winter, particularly in December through February, they may be seen traveling south along the California coast in small groups, usually two to five on their way to Mexico."

In checking on the distance of such a trip, the students at Park determined that the gray whale traveled some 5,000 to 7,000 miles. That's just the one-way trip figure. Then in March or April they leave Mexico to return the way they came.
